DIGITAL PRINTING

■ Inventory Management and Just-in-time Delivery

The days of having to order printed materials in large quantities, warehouse them and eventually discard them when they become obsolete are over. With fewer production steps and less costs than traditional methods, we offer just-in-time delivery options never before available. Now you can order printing as you need it and have the flexibility to make changes and update content between orders.

■ On-line Ordering and Digital Inventory Management

Embassy Graphics' on-line ordering and digital inventory management interface is scheduled for release in November 2002. This user-friendly customer-branded interface will allow you to place new jobs on our inventory management system, view all jobs in the system and change or order print jobs directly from the system.

■ Redundancy and Back Up

You can be confident your time-sensitive printing will be delivered as promised because our investment in several digital printing presses means we have back-up in case of any equipment problems.

■ Multiple Geographic Locations

With printing facilities in both Eastern and Central Canada, you benefit from innovative, time saving distributions strategies such as split run national campaigns based on the geographical area of delivery.
